

Distribution Law

We have the experience.

We have the resources.

Our distribution law practice group draws on the talents of lawyers who regularly represent franchise and distribution companies, multi-unit franchise operators, corporate and individual investors contemplating franchise opportunities, and lending institutions engaged in lending and other financial activities.

Whether you're looking at the Canadian market for the first time, re-entering the Canadian market after a previous attempt, or looking at restructuring your existing distribution network after a period of success, you need sound and practical legal advice from experienced legal counsel.

We will lead you through:

- Structuring franchise and distribution systems
- Preparing franchise disclosure documentation
- International and domestic licensing and distribution agreements
- Mergers and acquisitions
- Real estate development, leasing, and financing
- Expansion
- Financing
- Competition law compliance
- Workout negotiations, bankruptcies, lender liability, loan participation litigation, and bankruptcy proceedings

Simple, Comprehensive Solutions.
