At Dale & Lessmann LLP, we understand the passion, dedication and sacrifice involved in building a business.

We also know about the roadblocks which entrepreneurs face along the way.

Our lawyers have helped many private companies meet the legal challenges of expansion, build logical and lasting corporate structures and anticipate the many challenges which are out there.

Whether you're starting a business in Canada, financing, building, buying equipment, creating a web-site or managing people, we have the expertise to help make it easier.

For decades, our lawyers have helped international companies get started in Canada, providing cost-effective, user-friendly advice on Canadian legal matters to emerging companies in a wide array of industries, including industrial manufacturers, food product manufacturers, telecommunication service providers, internet based service providers, consumer products manufacturers and distributors, financial institutions, automotive parts manufacturers, engineering firms, chemical producers and construction firms.

Frequently, getting started in a new venture is more complicated than it first appears with start-up capital arrangements, licensing requirements, Canadian and foreign tax perils, unexpected liabilities, insurance pitfalls, environmental risks and notification requirements all making trusted and experienced counsel a necessity for even the most experienced entrepreneurs.

We have the experience and the expertise to help you cut through the red tape, to help make your plans happen and let you stay focused on the business of doing business.

And, when things go wrong, Dale & Lessmann LLP is well-equipped to provide cost-effective legal advice relating to commercial disputes.

We will be there.
